The Vice-Chancellor provided a report that requested delegated authority to appoint to the senior postholder roles of Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research, Innovation and External Relations) and Chief People Officer.
5.1 In discussion, it was noted that:

i. Delegated authority would ensure that the appointment of preferred candidates could be expedited.

ii. Interview panels would include representation from governors.

iii. The external relations element of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research, Innovation and External Relations) role referred to engagement with the business community and with external agencies such as the Solent Local Enterprise Partnership and the Portsmouth Freeport. The role also incorporated alumni activities and advancement.

5.2 Following discussion, the Board:

i. Agreed that the final stage interview panels, would receive delegated authority to appoint the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research, Innovation and External Relations) and the Chief People Officer.

ii. Noted that salary parameters for both roles would be set in discussion with the Senior Postholders’ Remuneration Committee.

6 Implementation of University Strategy 2025

Fiona Loughran, Director of Planning and Martin Perrin, Head of Strategic Programmes, provided an update report and presentation on the implementation of the University Strategy.

6.1 Key points made were:

i. The University Executive Board had agreed four strategic imperatives that would guide short-term resource planning. These were:

   (a) Reverse the ongoing decline in applications and boost conversions
   (b) Pursue educational excellence, improve student experience and reduce variation in outcomes
   (c) Rapidly improve graduate employment
   (d) Increase globally recognised research and innovation based on thematic areas, prioritising collaboration and international engagement

ii. A focus upon the four strategic imperatives and their operational delivery was necessary to set the foundations for improved performance.

iii. The University’s position had declined in the three main league tables in 2021. This had the potential to impact adversely upon student recruitment and upon future performance in the Teaching Excellence Framework.

iv. Local enhancement plans had been developed by each faculty and department in February 2021 to inform resource planning. Professional Services had been asked to update their plans by 22 October 2021. Faculties had not been asked to updated their plans as the portfolio review was in progress as the driver for change in their areas.
v. Local enhancement plans focused on the four strategic imperatives, which would, in turn, be linked to action plans and individual Performance Development Reviews. The Vice-Chancellor was also undertaking a series of departmental strategy meetings to specifically discuss local enhancement plans.

vi. Action plans to deliver the four strategic imperatives would identify the activities with greatest impact and would be monitored monthly by the University Strategy Group.

vii. The Board would receive a progress report on the implementation of the University Strategy at its meetings in January 2022 and a review in July 2022.

Action: Director of Planning

6.2 In discussion, the following points were noted:

i. The University’s league table position was attributable to a number of reasons. In particular, it would be important to improve recruitment and retention; tariff entry scores; and graduate outcomes and employability. However, it was important to recognise that the University Strategy was the key driver of activity rather than league table position.

ii. Addressing the decline in league table position was a shared responsibility that would require a shared response from all parts of the University.

iii. The pandemic had created increased workloads and fatigue for staff. It was important that adverse implications for staff morale were managed effectively. Sources of support should be signposted for and communication should be thoughtful and considered.

iv. The ability to return to the workplace had created marked enthusiasm amongst many staff to tackle the post-pandemic challenges that faced the University.

v. Responses to the National Students Survey (NSS) had been adversely affected by the impact of the pandemic, especially due to the requirements of remote learning. The cyber incident had exacerbated this situation for many of the University’s students.

vi. There was evidence to suggest that students at post-92 universities were more likely to have constrained study conditions within their parental home and that this had influenced NSS responses.

vii. An analysis of NSS course level responses was ongoing.

viii. Cross-functional Strategic Delivery Groups would be facilitated via new approaches to organisational development. This would help to ensure the systemic planning and alignment of strategic and operational activities.

ix. Momentum for the delivery of the University Strategy would be maintained through the Vice-Chancellor’s departmental strategy meetings, Performance Development Reviews, regular communications and other tailored engagement activity.

x. It would be important to identify and promote new ways of working efficiently and effectively in the post-pandemic environment. This would involve challenging and changing previous ways of working.
xi. The Board welcomed the update and supported the planned, aligned approach to the University Strategy 2025.

6.3 The Board:

i. Noted the focus on addressing the four strategic imperatives and the action plan in development to address them.

ii. Noted the reporting framework for the Strategic Delivery Groups to ensure that the University does not lose sight of the aims and priorities of Strategy 2025.

11 Race Equality Review Work Update

Yvonne Howard, Interim Director of Race and Equality and Tracey Lamb, Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Manager provided a report and presentation on the Equality, Diversity and Inclusivity (EDI) Framework and associated governance structure. Key points noted were:

i. There were five emerging actions that would reinforce the EDI framework:
   1. Visible leadership and commitment
   2. HR diversity targets based on sound data
   3. Engaged employees
   4. Balanced representation
   5. Balanced promotions

ii. Each emerging action would be underpinned by a detailed action plan. This would ensure a cohesive, planned approach that dovetailed with other University activities.

iii. The Equality Diversity and Inclusion Steering Group would oversee implementation of the EDI Framework and action plan. It would provide regular reports to the University Executive Board, the People, Culture and Engagement Committee and the Board.

iv. The EDI Steering Group would be supported by network groups, working group and an EDI Consultative Group. Its work would also be informed by qualitative and quantitative data. This structure would help to build motivation, energy and momentum for delivery.

v. The EDI Framework would be an enabler. Its three objectives were:

1. To build a positive, inclusive culture that inspires staff and students to realise their full potential.
2. To work towards fair representation and fair outcomes for the staff and student communities.
3. To develop a robust understanding of EDI data (quantitative and qualitative) to effect sound evidence-based decision making.

vi. This approach would challenge bias and encourage real change. Specific outcomes to gauge success would be developed. Emerging key performance indicators would encompass recruitment; retention; narrowing the awarding gap; and leadership and accountability.

11.1 In discussion, the Board noted the following:

i. It was important to identify and focus on the priorities identified in the action plan.

ii. The EDI Framework provided a clear vision of equality, diversity and inclusivity for all stakeholders, including governors. UEB and the Board would receive training on EDI issues over the course of the next 12 months.

Action: Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Global Engagement and Student Life)

iii. Some groups within the University had felt disenfranchised. The EDI Framework aimed to address all needs and tackle negative perceptions positively.

iv. The EDI Steering Group would use materials developed by Advance HE to ensure the inclusion and consideration of socio-economic background factors as well as protected characteristics.

v. It was important to analyse and compare performance against benchmark data. This would help to support the achievement of the targets.

vi. The action plan was a work in progress. Staff would be encouraged to contribute information and data and to become involved and engaged in the work to be taken forward.

11.2 The Board agreed the underlying principles of the EDI framework and its associated governance arrangements.

13 Harassment and Sexual Misconduct: The Seven OfS Expectations

Bernie Topham, Deputy Vice-Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer provided a report that outlined the steps being taken by the University to address the seven Office for Students (OfS) expectations to prevent and tackle harassment and sexual misconduct.

13.1 Key points noted were:
i. The University had a duty of care to be ensure the safety of students.
ii. A mapping exercise had been completed to show how the University currently addressed each of the expectations.
iii. An action group has been established to take prioritised action and to measure progress against identified milestones.
iv. Reports and analytical data would be presented to the Board using a joined-up approach that chimed with the Equality, Diversity and Inclusivity Framework.

13.2 In discussion, it was noted that harassment and sexual misconduct impacted upon both students and staff. It was important to ensure that all victims felt that it was safe to make reports.

13.3 It was important to set up a network to provide immediate support for victims and for which training would be provided.

13.4 Following discussion, the Board:
   i. Affirmed its commitment to ensuring that the University responds to all forms of harassment and sexual misconduct and that it works towards its prevention.
   ii. Noted the mapping of activities against the seven OfS expectations for preventing and responding to incidents of harassment and sexual misconduct.
   iii. Agreed that the Board of Governors should receive progress reports each six months on the University’s work towards compliance with the seven OfS expectations.

14 Risk Management Policy

Adrian Parry, Executive Director of Corporate Governance provided a report on the annual review and approval of the University’s Risk Management Policy. The University Executive Board and the Audit and Quality Committee had previously considered and endorsed the draft policy for approval.

14.1 Key points noted were:
   i. The Office for Students required all universities to have robust policies and approaches to manage and control risk.
   ii. A recent internal audit report had recommended that the University should progress to Stage Four (Improving) in its level of risk maturity from Stage Three (Defined).
   iii. The Board would receive the full Corporate Risk Register every six months and subject to the scrutiny of the Audit and Quality Committee, would focus on the top twelve risks and any other risks graded as red, to ensure that volume of information does not obscure extreme and critical risk.

   Action: Executive Director of Corporate Governance
iv. Each Strategic Delivery Group (SDG) would develop a risk register to support attainment of their group’s objectives. Each risk is set a target risk score to identify whether further controls should be applied. Planning would determine if SDG risks should be included in the Corporate Risk Register.

v. The amber category for high level and mitigating action required is very broad and a blue risk category would be introduced to identify risks that were very low and had little impact.

14.2 The following points were noted in discussion:

i. It was important to capture perceptions of risk; to ensure that risk mitigation was resourced appropriately; and that resources were allocated where require to address risk.

ii. It would be important to focus upon those amber risks that had the potential to escalate to red risks and thereby create business critical incidents.

iii. The Risk Register was a document that should evolve rather than remain static over the course of the year.

iv. The Risk Register was supplemented by the Audit and Quality Committee’s consideration of a Risk Assurance Map. The purpose of the Risk Assurance Map was to identify all sources of audit assurance that could be used to effectively manage risk.

v. Reports for the Board could identify the risk profile on the cover sheet for the subject, similar to the approach taken to identify Equality and Diversity Implications. This may be worthy of further exploration.

vi. The introduction of the “blue” risk category was designed to identify those risks that were of little consequence and should be discounted as minor in nature.

14.3 The Board noted and approved the Risk Management Policy.
